Say the knowledge-holders, disease is chaotic, healing is order.

Say the knowledge-holders, true home is the place from which the sun breaks.

Say the knowledge-holders, right practice is true knowing.

Say the knowledge-holders, a vow is an obligation for which payment must be made.

Say the knowledge-holders, the way will be made open for them that have power over their feet, which is power over their understanding.

Say the knowledge-holders, let shame come over those who would hinder the rising of the dead.

Say the knowledge-holders, love openeth all the ways, Spirit enters into closed places.

Say the knowledge-holders, the mouth of truth shall overwhelm evil.